

The book was found

The Invasion Within: The Contest Of Cultures In Colonial North America (Cultural Origins Of North America)

Synopsis

Colonial North America was not only a battleground for furs and land, but also for allegiances and even souls. In the three-sided struggle for empire, the English and French colonists were locked in heated competition for native allies and religious converts. Axtell sharply contrasts the English efforts to "civilize" the Indians with the French willingness to accept native lifestyles, and reveals why the struggle for control over the continent became a fascinating contest of cultures between shrewd opponents lasting nearly 150 years.

Book Information

Series: Cultural Origins of North America

Paperback: 416 pages

Publisher: Oxford University Press; Reprint edition (November 27, 1986)

Language: English

ISBN-10: 0195041542

ISBN-13: 978-0195041545

Product Dimensions: 8 x 0.9 x 5.4 inches

Shipping Weight: 1.1 pounds (View shipping rates and policies)

Average Customer Review: 4.8 out of 5 stars See all reviews (6 customer reviews)

Best Sellers Rank: #887,855 in Books (See Top 100 in Books) #116 in Books > History >

Americas > Canada > First Nations #1486 in Books > History > Americas > United States >

Colonial Period #6098 in Books > Textbooks > Humanities > History > United States

Customer Reviews

Axtell is interested in acculturation and the "impact the major competing cultures of Eastern North America- English, French, and Indian- had had on each other, especially when they set out consciously to educate or convert their rivals." (p.IX) This book reveals the social and cultural interactions in the northeast of North America. The author rejects the prejudice of the moral superiority of the Europeans over the "savage" Indians and gives a profound account of the cultural interactions and conversions among the English, French, and Indian inhabitants of northeast North America. The English had the weakest cultural impact, according to the author. The French were more flexible and more successful in bringing new converts, but the Indians were the most successful cultural power, concludes Axtell, thanks to their more natural lifestyle and tolerance towards the cultures of the Europeans, who wanted to settle among them. It's an excellent book that tells the story of Colonial North America from a very interesting angle and it is a definite must for readers interested in social and cultural history of North America.

In The Invasion Within, James Axtell has the best expository writing quality I've ever read. His treatment of the subject, based on broad unbiased research. He brings important insights to American Indian cultures before and since Europeans' arrival, clarification and new light on common misrepresentations and misunderstandings about the actions and reactions of both Indians and whites and the mutual influence the cultures have had on each other. I think this is an important offering to current thinking and issues -- not just those involving Native Americans but to constructive understanding of this country, our roots and our ability to continue to grow and change into a good future.

I bought two of Axtell's books on : this one and The European and the Indian. Both are restrained in their claims, both are clearly written, both are well researched. The best part - although included in both texts - is the "Little Red School" chapter on the schooling of Indians in white communities. Yet the work itself is well worth your time.

Download to continue reading...

The Invasion Within: The Contest of Cultures in Colonial North America (Cultural Origins of North America) Neotectonics of North America: Decade Map Volume to Accompany the Neotectonic Maps, Part of the Continent-Scale Maps of North America (Geology of North America) Home Invasion Survival: 30+ solutions on how to prevent and defend against home invasion Cultures of the Jews, Volume 1: Mediterranean Origins No Contest: Corporate Lawyers and the Perversion of Justice in America The Black Doctors of Colonial Lima: Science, Race, and Writing in Colonial and Early Republican Peru (McGill-Queen's/Associated Medical Services Studies in the History of Medicine, H) Islands, Islanders and the World: The Colonial and Post-colonial Experience of Eastern Fiji (Cambridge Human Geography) 100 Questions and Answers About East Asian Cultures: An introductory cultural competence guide for Americans about the customs, history of people from China, Taiwan, South Korea, Japan and Hong Kong Lives Across Cultures: Cross-Cultural Human Development (5th Edition) Lives Across Cultures: Cross-Cultural Human Development (2nd Edition) Discover the Power Within You: A Guide to the Unexplored Depths Within Continental Divides: Remapping the Cultures of North America Kids Say Don't Smoke: Posters from the New York City Pro-Health Ad Contest Programming Challenges: The Programming Contest Training Manual (Texts in Computer Science) Contest Theory: Incentive Mechanisms and Ranking Methods Write It to Win It!: 39 Secrets from a Screenwriting Contest

Judge Contest Guru's Guide To Winning Sweepstakes Handicapping Contest Handbook: A Horseplayer's Guide to Handicapping Tournaments Empires of the Sea: The Siege of Malta, the Battle of Lepanto, and the Contest for the Center of the World Islam in Indonesia: The Contest for Society, Ideas and Values

Dmca